CAREERS GUIDANCE FOR YOUNG PEOPLE WITH SEND
Statutory guidance for governing bodies, school leaders and school staff

Schools should secure access to face-to-face careers guidance where it is the most suitable support for young people to make successful transitions. While most young people can benefit from face-to-face guidance, it is likely to be particularly useful for children from disadvantaged backgrounds, those who are at risk of disengaging or those who have special educational needs, learning difficulties or disabilities.
CAREER OUTCOMES

- Career outcomes for young people described as having SEND need to be conceptualised more broadly than in the general population; they include a range of adult roles and purposeful activities such as unpaid work, learning and wider forms of citizenship.
- It is also clear that for a young person described as having SEND, career management skills include the ability to manage various kinds of impairments whilst maintaining work.
What is personal guidance?

Personal guidance describes the one-to-one interactions which take place between a careers adviser and a young person. Within Benchmark 8 of the Gatsby report there is a requirement for schools and colleges to provide young people with access to personal guidance. This should be with a careers adviser who should be trained to a minimum of level 6.
THIS IS BEST UNDERSTOOD AS A PROCESS WHICH ENABLES INDIVIDUALS TO > CONSIDER THEIR CIRCUMSTANCES, VALUES AND ASPIRATIONS
> CONFRONT ANY CHALLENGES
> RESOLVE ANY CONFLICTS
> BUILD RESILIENCE AND CONFIDENCE
> DEVELOP NEW PERSPECTIVES
> JUSTIFY THEIR THINKING AND REACH A DECISION IN THE LIGHT OF RELEVANT CAREER AND LABOUR MARKET INFORMATION
DECISION-MAKING PROCESSES... AND THINGS THAT GET IN THE WAY

- Time
- Space
- Clarity
- Perspective

- Unconscious bias
- Practice
- Strangers
- Familiars
Hello. Did you find us OK today?
I’m clearly here… so how do I answer that?
Did you come on the bus?
I thought this was a Careers interview. Maybe I’ve got it confused with travel training?
What would you like to get out of our interview today?

Now I really don’t know how to answer. And I haven’t answered the first 2 questions yet. Do I try and answer them first? And now she’s giving me a weird look.
Now I really don’t know how to answer. And I haven’t answered the first 2 questions yet. Do I try and answer them first? And now she’s giving me a weird look
DECISION-MAKING PROCESSES...AND THINGS THAT GET IN THE WAY

• Time – practice silence
• Space – environmental and processing
• Clarity – ’I was perfectly clear’ is never a correct assumption
• Perspective – ‘take a chair’
• Practice – never makes perfect...but never hurts
• Unconscious bias – learning disability = bad at making decisions
• Strangers – usually you are one
• Familiars – people, objects, communication patterns
Mental Capacity

The legal concept of mental capacity is contained in the Mental Capacity Act 2005 and the Mental Capacity Act Code of Practice, which is statutory guidance.

Mental capacity is assessed in relation to the particular decision which needs to be made. This means that whether a young person has mental capacity to make a particular decision or not has to be considered on an individual basis in the light of the circumstances at the time.

VISUAL TOOLKIT – HELP YOURSELF FROM THE DRUK WEBSITE
Findings suggest that career education, vocational and personal guidance in the UK has been most effective with young people with SEND when the individual receives not only face-to-face careers guidance but is also assisted into employment.

THE BENCHMARKS

GOOD CAREER GUIDANCE

Sir John Holman, a former Headteacher and founder of the National STEM Learning Centre, was asked by the Gatsby Charitable Foundation to undertake an independent, international review of career guidance. He visited six countries, analysed good practice in English schools and did a comprehensive review of current literature. From all of this, Sir John wrote the Good Career Guidance Report. In the report he identifies what 'good' looks like and outlines a framework of eight benchmarks that schools can use to improve their career guidance system.
HOSTING TRANSITION EVENTS

When considering how to meet Benchmark 5: Encounters with Employers, National Star College in Cheltenham built on the strength of its transitions event, which last year featured 47 exhibitors from across the country, providing information, advice and personal support. It also created FestABLE, the first festival dedicated to specialist learning and work opportunities in the UK. Hundreds of parents, professionals and young people with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) came together to listen to speakers, attend workshops and have a go at different activities they might do in college or in work.

IMPROVING STUDENT OUTCOMES

Finally, Foxes Academy in Minehead has become a Disability Confident leader, as part of a Government-backed scheme to support more employers to make the most of the talents of disabled people. They have created links to scores of local employers in line with Benchmark 5: Encounters with Employers and Benchmark 6: Experiences of Workplaces. The work done by Foxes Academy has had a dramatic effect on student outcomes: 81 per cent of leavers from 2017 gained employment and are still employed a year later, far higher than the national employment rate for people with learning difficulties of less than 6 per cent.
ASDAN’s Lifeskills Challenge programme, an online bank of more than 1,000 challenges ranging from pre-Entry to Level 3, supports the development of employability skills. Below is a list of free, downloadable Lifeskills Challenge activities that are mapped to each of the eight Gatsby benchmarks. The challenges have been suggested in accordance with the guidance provided in the SEND Gatsby benchmark toolkit.

1: A stable careers programme
Challenge: Planning and running a mini enterprise project

2: Learning from career and labour market information
Challenge: Using art to explore different occupations

3: Addressing the needs of each student
Challenge: Creating a personal profile: strengths and aspirations

4: Linking curriculum learning to careers
Challenge: Creating a healthy smoothie

5: Encounters with employers and employees
Challenge: Introduction to social action

6: Experience of workplaces
Challenge: Experience activities related to the world of work

7: Encounters with further and higher education
Challenge: Planning my career journey

8: Personal guidance
Challenge: Using advice and guidance

The SEN and Disability Code of Practice 2015 ("the Code") makes it clear that once a child becomes a young person at the age of 16, local authorities and others should normally engage directly with the young person rather than their parents.

However, the Code also makes it clear that the young person's family and parents should continue to be involved in discussions about the young person's future. The young person may also ask them to help in other ways such as attending meetings, filling in forms or receiving correspondence on their behalf.
Advocacy Toolkit: The rights of disabled young people in the transition planning process

Coram Voice has produced a toolkit for advocates, professionals and carers to support disabled children with the transition from children’s to adult’s services. The toolkit sets out straightforward guidance and provides links to key resources on transition, barriers and issues and what the law says.
